Instructions

These are the two main riffs from Lady Ga Ga's song "Just Dance". If you struggle to play all the notes just play the ones in circles.

If you are playing along with the backing track, you need to play the "Main Riff" fifteen times, then the "Second Riff" eight times and finish up by playing the "Main Riff" again a further twelve times.

The notes are written in tablature - horizontal line are the strings/numbers are the frets - and in note code (above the tablature).

Underneath the tablature you can see the counting ("1 and 2 and" etc.) - don't worry if you can't follow this, simply listen to the track and try and pick up the timing from this. Count four beats for each bar. Each riff lasts for two bars but is repeated many times over!!

The "Second Riff" is harder than the "Main Riff" because lots of the notes are played "off the beat" on the "and" count. Again, don't worry - listen carefully to the track to get the timing.

Once you think you're ready, try and play along with the track.

By the way - it's ok to play the "Second Riff" when the "Main Riff" is being played, the two riffs are interchangeable so it sounds really cool!!
